Welcome to the new year!

I'm delighted to connect with you through our newsletter and aim to maintain the high standards set by our previous editor. A heartfelt thank you goes out to Joyce Lock for her dedication in keeping us informed about our guild's events in the past and for her continued role as president. We are also grateful for Jeanne Oliver, Marguerite Hickernell, and Judy Larter for their willingness to serve our guild in their respective roles as vice president, treasurer, and secretary. We are truly fortunate to have such an engaged community of amazing individuals, and I look forward to the exciting opportunities this new year will bring.

Wishing everyone a Happy New Year!

What is Roc Day?

Roc Day, also known as St. Distaff's Day or Distaff's Day, is celebrated on January 7th, the day after Epiphany. It was the traditional day on which women would resume their household work after celebrating the twelve days of Christmas.

The distaff, or roc, was used in spinning and was the medieval symbol of women's work. Women of all classes would use their spinning wheels in the evening or carry a drop spindle during the day to turn raw wool, cotton or flax into thread, which would then be woven into cloth. ~Wikipedia, Distaff Day
